Words from our President...

It's April...No Fooling! Wow! So many things continue to keep us busy, busy, busy. In the past month we have been asked to be interviewed on a new local podcast...stay tuned for more details on this! We have been interviewed for BOOM Magazine. We have been invited to participate in a fabulously artistic luncheon workshop at Bucknell University with Ibiyinka Alao. We began working on two fabulous new events that will be fun features for our community! The Grown Up Book Fair presented by Lycoming Arts coming this May 24th and Weihnachtsmarkt (German Christmas Market) a collaboration of Lycoming Arts, Lycoming College, the City of Williamsport and the Williamsport Business Association coming Dec 6th. If you are interested in participating as a vendor, please send to info@lycomingarts.org Subject "German Market".

We once again participated in FCFP Raise the Region...we are so grateful to ALL who supported us! These funds make a great impact on all our programs being offered through Lycoming Arts. We hosted an Artist Talk with Leslie Landon and Simon Ward. We enjoyed sharing their artwork with all of you at our Lycoming Arts Gallery in March. Their show has now moved on to Florida!

Interested in participating in the Grown-Up Book Fair? The Nature's Palette Art in Rider Park clay classes? Go to our website under the UPCOMING EVENTS tab and purchase your tickets today! These are limited ticket events...do it now to insure you are with us!

We are happy to host our featured artist: Molly McHenry in April. Our Y'Art Gallery will kick off with Montgomery School District and what a show! Please come in and show these kids some support! We also have a featured CollegeTown artist: Alexis Rockwell. Folks, these are some pretty terrific shows, please check them out! And last, but certainly not least, we are thrilled to feature UPMC's Community Block Party for our May Outdoor Williamsport First Friday™ kickoff! What an incredible opportunity to come out, meet your friends and family and make new friends, too. So much packed into this event...we just know it will become a favorite!
